

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

POSITION TITLE: Project Coordinator, Marine and Coastal Management

FIRST NATIONS
FISHERIES COUNCIL

The FNFC is a unique, progressive organization that offers an exciting opportunity to join a small, dedicated team passionate about advocating for the Rights of First Nations in BC, while protecting and enhancing the health of our aquatic resources. Through the BC First Nations Fisheries Action Plan, First Nations in BC have mandated the FNFC to support, protect, reconcile, and advance First Nations Rights and common positions through a united front and a united voice. FNFC works to develop the necessary capacity and relationships that enable First Nations in BC to influence the integrated planning and management of fisheries and aquatic resources. Our priorities are to develop effective governance mechanisms, form collaborative relationships among First Nations organizations, and work together to build a coherent process, messaging and a united voice on fisheries and aquatic resource issues.

Position Summary:

The First Nations Fisheries Council is seeking an energetic, organized, hard-working individual to join our team. Reporting to the Manager, Marine and Coastal Management as well as the Director, Intergovernmental Relations and Partnerships, the Coordinator functions to ensure strong relationships are maintained between FNFC, First Nations in BC, the provincial government, and the Canadian federal government, to advance and support the interests of BC First Nations as it relates to the aquatic environment. The Project Coordinator will have the opportunity to gain experience and skills in the areas of program administration, project execution, and building collaborative working relationships. The Project Coordinator will support First Nations participation in FNFC marine processes and programs, liaise with First Nations organizations, government agencies, and other FNFC partners to advance and support aquatic resource related interests of First Nations in BC. In addition, this role presents a unique opportunity to demonstrate leadership and the ability to support organizational growth through supporting the development of broader FNFC funding opportunities (including grants and proposals), communication materials, and report/brief research, analysis, and writing.

Description of Role:

- Build and maintain collaborative working relationships with FNFC partners advancing collaborative activities, program design and implementation
- Support development of communications and implementation of special projects to advance strategic objectives of FNFC
- Support implementation of workplans, budgets, and drafting of reporting requirements
- Work closely cross-organizationally, including with Project Coordinators, Managers and Senior Managers, to ensure program implementation is consistent with strategic development of the organization
- Prepare comprehensive meeting summaries, reports, discussion papers and briefing notes, and support the development of other written internal and external communications
- Provide support to BC First Nations and organizations through research, analysis, reports, correspondence, and attending relevant workshops

What We're Looking For:

- You want to make a difference for First Nations in BC
- You are willing to take the time to invest and learn the BC First Nations landscape
- You are a team player that fits our culture

- You are adaptable to the changing environment of opportunities
- You are not afraid to roll up your sleeves to get the work done
- You have excellent communication skills
- You have a good understanding of financial accountability
- You know when to take initiative and when you need to ask for further direction

Education, Experience, and Competencies:

- Post-secondary degree in environmental studies, resource management, public administration, Indigenous studies, geography or marine sciences, or a related field, OR an equivalent combination of education and experience.
- Experience working with BC First Nations communities and/or First Nations organizations.
- Experience conducting research, analysis, preparing briefing notes, developing recommendations, and drafting correspondence and comprehensive reports.
- Highly organized with strong attention to detail skills.
- Ability to work effectively as part of a team and independently.
- Ability to take initiative and demonstrate leadership.
- Excellent oral and written communication skills.
- Strong critical thinking and problem-solving skills.
- Working knowledge of aquatic resource management and related legislation and policy, including issues related to marine habitat protection, assessment and restoration, and marine planning.
- Working knowledge of First Nations in BC and their constitutional rights regarding aquatic resources.

What We Offer When You are the Right Fit:

- Salary/year - $50,000 - $60,000 – commensurate with experience
- Opportunity to get directly involved with First Nations in BC
- Health benefits plan (medical and dental)
- Pension Plan matching 5.5%
- 3 weeks of annual vacation
- 37.5 hours/week

JOB LOCATION:

The FNFC office is located at 320 – 1200 West 73rd Ave., Vancouver BC.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

Applicants are asked to email confidential letters of application and resume, providing details of work experience and three references before 5:00 pm on Thursday, November 17, 2022, to:
